

BRADLEY HARRIS - LOW BRASS STUDIO

To music instructors, students, and parents,

My name is Bradley Harris, a 2008 graduate of Illinois State University with a Master of Music in trombone performance and wind conducting. I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself and to offer my services as brass instructor and private lesson teacher. For the past year, I have been teaching private lessons in the Bloomington / Normal community and am eager to offer half hour and hour long lessons to your interested trombone and euphonium students.

Having performed in the ISU Wind Symphony as principal trombonist, soloist, and section euphonium player, as well as frequent performances with the Peoria Symphony Orchestra, Illinois Symphony Orchestra, Sinfonia da Camera, and the Prairie Ensemble, I am eager to offer your beginner, intermediate, and advanced players with competitively priced lessons: 1/2 hour = $25; 1 hour = $35.

My main focus in lessons is to establish a quality daily routine, to develop the fundamentals of sound production and articulation, and to promote an efficient approach to playing the instrument. I will assign all students one etude and two scales per lesson, at least one trombone solo will be learned each semester, and satisfactory lesson preparation will be expected.

If interested, please do not hesitate to contact me via e-mail or call at any time. A full resume and character references are available upon request. Thanks for your time and I hope to hear from you in the very near future.

Sincerely and respectfully,
